

Pottery Studio

This structure is a rustic looking 1-1/2 story structure that serves as a pottery studio and shop in the country. It was built on a 1200 sq.ft. LEGALETT foundation. The bare concrete floors are quite comfortable to the feet, in contrast with the expectation of cold concrete.

One heating zone is used, with the open concept. A single Legalett electric heater is used to provide the comfort heat, with very little maintenance.

Although the Pottery Studio looks rustic and old-fashioned from the outside, inside, a very modern and energy efficient heating system is used, blending old and new in a perfect, warm, comfortable combination!
